Susan Milan celebrates fifty years of flute playing this year. During her career as orchestral principal, recitalist, soloist, chamber musician, recording artist and teacher, she has performed hundreds of works and has an exceptionally broad knowledge of the flute repertoire in all genres.

This is reflected in Flute Notes, consisting of programme notes and clearly presented information for 146 composers and over 400 works.

Invaluable advice on recital programme planning and practical lists of composers and dates, makes this informative, practical and resourceful book an essential handbook for flautists. Susan Milan is a Professor of Flute and Fellow of the Royal College of Music, London.
